Hondrond. December 20rn, 1882.

A CONTRIBUTOR to the Singapore Times, I the course of a description of a voyage to Kudat from that port, suggests that the Governments of Hongkong and the Straits Settlements should be invited to send their convicts to that port. He says that the Chinese immigrants all prefer Sendakan because Rudat is reputed to be unlied thy, but the latter place only requires clearing and then Kudat may become a second Singapore. We doubt, however, whether the British suggestion, for it would entail upon the Sahah Government a new responsibility and introduce a rather undesirage element into the population.
